Join Us in Welcoming a New Year and a New Pink Chick!

We would love to introduce you to our new Pink Chick, Brooke Hinson! Brooke is from the small town of Paragould, Arkansas, just outside of Jonesboro. She attended the University of Arkansas... WOO PIG SOOIE! Brooke moved to west Tennessee in 2015 and is married to Sam, who's a local criminal defense attorney. They have two beautiful children: Warner is 5 and Palmer is 2 1/2. Brooke is the founder and co-owner of a clothing store, York Laine Boutique here in Jackson. She loves food, fashion, and economics, attends Fellowship Bible Church and is a TIRED member of the USJ Parents Club! Welcome to the flock Brooke!

The Sky is Falling

In the story, an acorn falls on Chicken Little's head and she takes it as a sign that the sky is falling, and the world is coming to an end. She spreads the news, "The sky is falling!"

This name "Chicken Little," and the phrase, "The sky is falling," has been applied to those being unreasonably afraid, or someone trying to incite an unreasonable fear in those around them.

(Sound familiar)?

Continuing the story; Chicken Little then decides she has to tell the king. As Chicken Little begins her journey, Henny Penny, Ducky Lucky, Goosey Loosey, Lurkey Turkey and a few others hear the words of Little thinking it must be true, being fearful of such a thing, and without question, they join in and follow Little on her journey to inform the King.

As Chicken Little and the rest ventured on, they ran into Foxy Loxy.

Now, Foxy Loxy was a conniving fella, known for being popular, famous, and having good hair. After hearing Chicken Little say, "The sky is falling and we are on the way to tell the King," Foxy says, "Follow me! I know the way." At this, the birds whip themselves up into such a frenzy they abandon all common sense and follow Foxy Loxy.

Foxy saw the weakness of the birds as gullible and fearful and playing on those emotions, he lures them to his den and eats them all for dinner.

I don't suppose there is a need in stating the moral of the story. Though, I will: Don't believe everything you hear. Don't let fear lead the way.

Weird Animal Facts

- A newborn polar bear only weighs about 1 lb. Whereas an adult male polar bear can weigh over 1500 lbs.
- Although polar bears appear white, their fur is actually transparent. It only appears white, because it reflects visible light, so they appear to blend in with the snow. Under their fur, their skin is actually black!
